With my signature, I confirm that I have read and understood the rules of CRUX Climbing Center regulation, as well as I am aware of the rules that apply to climbing (with rope and boulder climbing). I agree to comply with and enforce these rules as user/parent (or legal representative) of CRUX Climbing Center.

Conduct and disclaimers
As per CRUX Climbing Center general regulations:

Users:
When using the facilities, the user should be aware that, due to the increased risk of falling, climbing requires a high degree of caution, consideration, and personal responsibility. The CRUX Climbing Center team does not check whether the user has adequate skills, whether progression techniques/security measures are being properly implemented or whether minors are accompanied and/or being supervised by a competent third party.

The user acknowledges and understands that rope climbing and boulder (both indoor and outdoor) are sports activities that are not exempt from the risk of injury or death. These activities involve inherent and incalculable risks. You expressly accept these risks, both known and unknown. The user is responsible for he’s own actions and implications.

The user understands that his participation in CRUX Climbing Center activities is voluntary.

The user declares that he meets the necessary physical and mental conditions to use the CRUX Climbing Center facilities and to practice any sport and activity at CRUX Climbing Center. The user enters and uses CRUX Climbing Center facilities at his own risk.

CRUX Climbing Center must ensure the proper functioning of the facilities, but it's totally and expressly free from any eventuality, mismatch, difficulty, problem, injury, or accident resulting from training, climbing or related hazards. For all damages caused deliberately, CRUX Climbing Center reserves the right to claim compensation.

This contract will be effective and binding for the heirs, next of kin, relatives, guardian relatives, executors, administrators, and assignees of the user in the event of death. By signing this agreement, you release CRUX Climbing Center of any claim, compensation, obligation, and cause or right of action, known or unknown, resulting from your participation in CRUX Climbing Center activities, including claims for common negligence. In addition, the user agrees to indemnify CRUX Climbing Center for any claim, obligation or right of action by a third party resulting from its participation in CRUX Climbing Center activities.

In the event of an accident, CRUX Climbing Center can provide first aid and provide the necessary medical assistance if the user is not trained to make decisions for himself. The user agrees to pay all the costs generated for CRUX Climbing Center to proceed in this way. The user agrees to indemnify and not to blame CRUX Climbing Center for any consequences arising from such assistance.

Minors
Minors under 18 years of age may only access CRUX Climbing Center facilities with the express consent of a parent or guardian (herein after the legal representative) formalized by signing this disclaimer.

Minors under 14 years of may only use CRUX Climbing Center facilities when accompanied by a parent/legal guardian or a person competent, in the course of supervision, who acts on behalf of the parent/legal guardian, who has signed the adult registration form and who fulfils his duty of surveillance throughout the child/young stay at the CRUX Climbing Center.

Young people between the ages of 14 and 18 can use the climbing facilities on their own, with a statement of consent signed by the parent/legal guardian. Without this statement of consent, we cannot issue an admission ticket.

The legal representative accepts that the minor uses CRUX Climbing Center facilities and/or participate in any activity from CRUX Climbing Center. The legal representative confirms that the parent or legal guardian implies the waiver of his right, the right of the user and the right of another parent or legal guardian or other person, to make any claim or sue CRUX Climbing Center for the participation of the minor in any of the CRUX Climbing Center activities or involvement in such activities. The legal representative agrees not to blame, defend, and hold CRUX Climbing Center harmless from any third-party claim caused or related to the minor's participation in any of CRUX Climbing Center's activities or involvement in such activities.

CRUX Climbing Center reserves the right to prohibit entry of minors for safety reasons or inappropriate behavior.

Each minor must be supervised by an adult unless he or she has been evaluated by the administration and registered for unsupervised climbing. However, the legal responsibility always belongs to the legal representative. In the practice of rope climbing, at CRUX Climbing Center it is mandatory the use of a helmet by the minor.

Youth activities/classes/events/youth competitions may be subject to age restrictions. Participation in these activities will be granted only with the written consent of the parent or legal guardian and with the presentation of a valid ID.
CRUX Climbing Center reserves the right to exclude minors from an activity for safety reasons or inappropriate behavior.
